KEEP SOCIETY INSIDE THE TIMELINE

Chronology gives the frame. Evidence, production, belief, language and culture explain the period.

People, social groups, ideas and practices

EVIDENCE → CLAIM → LIMIT

A historical source does not answer every question in the same way.

1 SOURCE
Who produced it?
When?
For what purpose?

Ask about the source.

2 DIRECT OBSERVATION
What does the material itself establish?

Work with what it shows.

3 INTERPRETATION
What wider conclusion may the evidence support?

Think beyond, but stay grounded.

LIMIT
What does it not prove?

Know the boundary.

TYPES OF HISTORICAL SOURCES

DIFFERENT SOURCES OFFER DIFFERENT WINDOWS.

ARCHAEOLOGY

Material remains from the past.

INSCRIPTIONS

Texts written on durable surfaces.

COINS

Small objects with information and symbols.

LITERARY WORKS

Composed narratives, ideas and accounts.

ADMINISTRATIVE RECORDS

Official communication and records.

NEWSPAPERS AND ORGANISATIONAL RECORDS

Reports, journals and institutional documents.

LATER SCHOLARSHIP

Subsequent analysis and interpretations.

THE PROPORTIONAL-CLAIM LADDER

Match your claim to what the source can reasonably support.

Stronger and more directly supported claim

DIRECTLY SHOWS
Strongest source-bound statement.
States what the material itself establishes.

MAY SUGGEST
Reasoned interpretation.
A wider conclusion that the evidence may support.

Weaker and more interpretive claim

DOES NOT PROVE
Explicit boundary.
What the source cannot establish on its own.

CHECK BEFORE YOU CLAIM

Verify each against a dependable source.

- TYPE : What kind of source is it?
- PERIOD : When was it produced?
- AUTHOR : Who produced it?
- LANGUAGE : In what language is it written or communicated?
- ASSOCIATION : What is its context or linkage (e.g., purpose, audience, institution)?

YOUR TURN

For one source, write three lines.

DIRECTLY SHOWS : _____

MAY SUGGEST : _____

DOES NOT PROVE : _____

A careful limit strengthens the claim.

HOW TO REASON WITH EVIDENCE

Compare Don't assume Follow the evidence

- Two sources agree → Record the shared relationship
- Sources differ → Check date, purpose, context and interpretation
- Only one source exists → Keep the claim narrow

CAUTION: A plausible court, author, work or monument association still needs verification.

Plausible is not proven.

PRACTICE & APPLY

Choose one syllabus period. Fill all four windows from dependable references.
Then remove one window: does the conclusion still hold?

A MORE THOUGHTFUL AND RESPONSIBLE TOMORROW

1953 · 1956 · 2014 ARE THREE DIFFERENT CLAIMS

Date the legal change. Name what changed. Never borrow a later boundary.

1953

ANDHRA STATE

- Formed on 1 October 1953.
- Primary legal anchor: Andhra State Act, 1953.

KEY QUESTIONS

1. What state was formed?
2. Which earlier administrative arrangement changed?
3. What does the Act directly establish?

1956

ANDHRA PRADESH

- Formed through the States Reorganisation Act, 1956.
- The Act transferred specified territory from Hyderabad to Andhra and altered the state's name.

KEY QUESTIONS

1. Which legal process applied?
2. Which agreement or recommendation is a separate source?
3. What changed in the administrative unit?

2014

REORGANISATION

- Primary legal anchor: Andhra Pradesh Reorganisation Act, 2014.
- Enforcement / appointed day: 2 June 2014.

KEY QUESTIONS

1. What did the Act reorganise?
2. Which claim needs the Act or notification?
3. Which later fact must not be projected backwards?

YEAR	EXACT ADMINISTRATIVE NAME	LEGAL / OFFICIAL SOURCE	WHAT CHANGED	REPRESENTED DATE
1953
1956
2014

ANDHRA STATE ≠ ANDHRA PRADESH

They are different administrative units created at different times under different legal processes.

FORMATION ≠ LATER REORGANISATION

A state's formation is not the same as a later reorganisation under a different law.

CURRENT OUTLINE ≠ HISTORICAL BOUNDARY

A present-day outline cannot be projected backwards to represent earlier administrative boundaries.

MAP RULE Use a historical map only when an authoritative source, represented date, boundary level and intended inference are recorded. A modern outline cannot stand in for 1953 or 1956.

PRACTICE EXERCISE

Write one verified sentence for each year. Each sentence must name the administrative unit, the change and the source.

1. 1953: _____
2. 1956: _____
3. 2014: _____

Official syllabus dated 27 April 2023 · India Code: Andhra State Act, 1953; States Reorganisation Act, 1956; Andhra Pradesh Reorganisation Act, 2014.
